

Cameron Champ and Morgan Rodriguez chat about opportunities in golf

Transcript

00:00:01- 00:00:03

Cameron:

Alright Morgan, so tell me how you got into the game and what are you up to now?

00:00:04- 00:00:18

Morgan

I've been out on a golf course since I was like two or three, playing in bunkers, being out here. My dad actually got me started the game and now I'm able to play in like the Mack Champ and so many other like great minority events. I play all around the world. I was able to get the Ace Grant scholarship.

00:00:19- 00:00:28

Cameron:

For me, very very similar. My grandfather started me right around the same age, around two years old, three years old. And coming up the same way through ACE Grant. I mean, I can remember those days like they were yesterday.

00:00:29- 00:00:41

Morgan

I think it definitely opens the door for kids—for people like me at least and people like us—to kind of be able to get those opportunities that you might have not been able to have without it. And it helps you to travel, see the world and like engage in these new experiences.

00:00:42- 00:00:54

Cameron:

I'm a small entity compared to the world, but you know for me if I can make a difference you know in my community or in my area where I live now, you know for me that means more than anything.